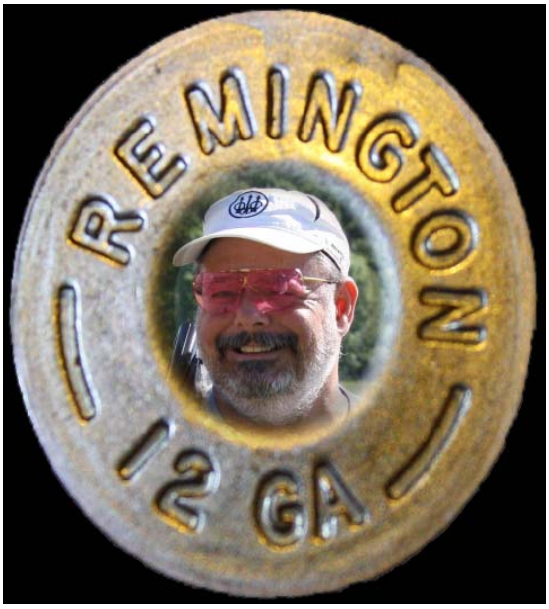
A Word From The Publisher



We hope you had a great Ground Hog's Day! The report from Pennsylvania is that Punxsutawney Phil saw his shadow which is a forecast of six more weeks of winter for our friends there. Acadiana's own Pierre C. Shadeaux, a prognosticating Nutria rat says nay to that and predicts an early Spring.

It was a very Spring like day today at Red Chute Shotgun Sports Club on Barksdale AFB. We have not had much of a Winter this year and hopefully we will not have one of those March snows like we had in Shreveport a few years ago.

Punxsutawney Phil

Yes, it is time to start thinking about Skeet. Debbie and I plan to kick-off the season with a visit to the Coast Rifle & Pistol Club near Biloxi, Mississippi for the Sweetheart Shoot. The Skeet season is getting cranked up in Dixie!

The Lafayette Skeet Academy, Inc. starts off the season with their Sixth Annual Junior Skeet Shooting Event on Saturday, March 10. This program is intended to encourage youth aged 6 to 18 to get involved in shooting sports. It has been a huge success. The program is funded with money from the Briley Louisiana Open and is free to the participants.

We hope to have a flyer on our website about it soon. Watch for it. Check out our report on this event in the April 2011 issue of the Red Chute Gazette. There were 75 youth participating last year and the weather was terrible. This year will likely be even bigger.

Now is the time to register for the North Louisiana Open. Check out the flyer for this shoot and many others on our website www.redchutegazette.com.

Until we meet again in these pages or on the skeet field, I am wishin' you 3 @ 8.

Most Sincerely,

Doug Frey

Product Review

Our friend, Lee Love, at Unique Tek sent us a bottle of Unique Tek Premium Firearms Cleaner to test. Advertised as a highly efficient solvent based cleaner for all firearms. It is reported to be virtually odorless and nontoxic making it safe to use indoors where ventilation may be less than perfect. It is also reported to contain no aromatic solvents that would swell rubber or plastics.

I used this cleaner to clean my over and under barrels and my Briley sub-gauge tubes. It worked very well. You put it on a swab and run it through your barrels and it cleans. As with most cleaning fluids, you need to lubricate your barrels or other parts after cleaning. The Unique Tek website has numerous kudos for others who have tried this product.

Unique Tek even recommends the use of their Premium Firearms Cleaner in Ultrasonic Cleaning Baths. It is reported to be safe on all gun parts including composite pistol grips and other plastic materials. It works well on shotguns, rifles and pistols.

Unique Tek Premium Firearms Cleaner is available in the following sizes:

- 4 oz bottle with flip up dispense cap
- 8 oz bottle with flip up dispense cap
- 1 quart plastic "Refill" bottle
- 1 gallon plastic bottle

Unique Tek Premium Firearms Cleaner does not contain aromatic solvents like Nitrobenzene or Xylene. It does not contain Terpenes like Camphor or d-Limonene. It has no CFCs or ammonia. It is non-acidic, non-corrosive and water free. Since it is impossible to predict the action of solvents on all of the many plastic formations used on firearms, either new or antique, it is recommended that you test all cleaning solvents on an inconspicuous place before using.

I recommend you check out Unique Tek Premium Firearms Cleaner and the many other products for shooting, reloading and competitive marksmen available at Unique Tek at www.uniquetek.com.

Dining on The Road

Middendorf's

The first 21 years of my life were spent in Tangipahoa Parish, Louisiana. I lived just outside the city limits of Amite City. When I left there in December of 1973 to move to Shreveport the population of Amite City was about 5,000. The population today is still about that. It seems to be a good place to be from. Being a small town, there were not a lot of restaurant choices when I lived there. On occasion, my family would take a trip down Highway 51 to "the Lake" to eat fish. That meant a trip to Middendorf's Restaurant which is located in Akers, Louisiana on Pass Manchac. Pass Manchac connects Lake Maurepas and Lake Pontchartrain. While Akers is the official name of the community, I have never seen that until researching this article. We always referred to this place as Manchac.

As I remember it, there was a fish market there with a small alligator that lived on the floor of the fish market eating the fish heads the men working there would throw him. There was also an old liquor store and a few other buildings. There was the old Highway 51 wooden bridge that went half-way across the Pass and stopped. It served then as an excellent pier for fishing and catching blue crabs. The water in Lake Maurepas is what we called mesh water. It was not quite as salty as the Gulf and was populated with saltwater and freshwater species. I remember catching Blue crabs there and fishing off the pier. The big draw in Manchac was Middendorf's Restaurant. The old bridge is gone, victim of a fire when some fisherman built a fire in a bucket to keep warm. Middendorf's is still there busier than ever.

Small Order of Thin Catfish

Middendorf's is 34 miles South of Amite. It took about 50 minutes to drive it on Highway 51. In later years, I-55 shortened that trip to about 39 minutes. Just long enough to help you work up an appetite for what I believe is the best fried catfish on planet Earth.

Now, before you get all worked up, thinking you have a favorite restaurant that has better catfish, understand that this is not just my opinion. Admittedly, I have not eaten at every catfish restaurant around. But, I have eaten at many and I believe the thin fried catfish filets at Middendorf's are the best. Southern Living magazine said "Quite possibly the best fried fish in the world-yes, the world." and they have received kudos from numerous food critics and writers.

The secret is in the recipe. I don't know all the secrets, but the filets are cut thin which makes a big difference. The batter is also light in color. The recipe used today is the same one used by Josie Middendorf when she and her husband Louis opened the restaurant in 1934.

Dining on The Road

Middendorf's

Louis Middendorf lost his job in 1929 stock market crash. Louis and his wife Josie moved to Manchac where Josie's family lived and survived by hunting and fishing for a living in the Cypress swamp around Lake Maurepas. It is reported that Louis was not particularly good at hunting and fishing. Fortunately, in 1934 he received a $500 bonus from the US Government for service in World War I. That and a loan for the same amount provided the capital for Louis and Josie to open a café in Manchac.

Josie was a good cook and her family recipe for fried catfish and her special thin cut of catfish had customers coming back for more. Louis and Josie's family ran the restaurant for many years. They added on and remodeled over the years building up a good clientele. The restaurant was bought from the daughter of the founders, Suzy Middendorf Lamonte by Horst and Karen Pfeifer who operate it today. The Pfeifers continue to use Mama Josie's recipes.

Take my word for it, the fish is every bit as good as I remember. The gumbo is good also. Sometimes, if I am really hungry or if Debbie will share my plate with me, I will go for the Seafood Platter which has fried shrimp, oysters, catfish and stuffed crab. They also have combo plates with shrimp and oysters or fish and shrimp or oysters and fish. The menu has a wide variety of seafood items including oyster stew, turtle soup, boiled shrimp, boiled crabs and broiled flounder. They start the meal with crusty French bread and all seafood dinners come with French fries, Cole slaw and hush puppies. If you have members of your party who don't eat seafood, Middendorf's has chicken dishes, steaks and burgers. I cannot attest to the chicken, burgers and steaks. My experience has been limited to the seafood dishes and I have had most of them.

People come from New Orleans and Baton Rouge to eat at Middendorf's, so you know the food has to be good. If you find yourself within driving distance, check this one out for yourself. You will be glad you did. Middendorf's is open Wednesday - Sunday from 10:30 AM to 9:00 PM.

Patience

By: Paul "L.P." Giambrone, III

Greetings everyone! Wow, another year has flown by and we are already in 2012! I want to first thank all of my clients and supporters for all of their help over the years and helping 2011 be the best year that Giambrone Shooting Clinics could possibly have had. As most of you know, 2011 was a busy year for me. I finished college (for good this time), recently married, and my wife Suzanne and I just moved to the Dallas area! Whew! Our new address is:
1705 Woodstock Blvd
Apt #106
Arlington, TX 76006

We have been married just over a month now and moved to Arlington just a couple of weeks ago. Before we know it, another great skeet season will be in full swing! Thank you again to all of my supporters, friends, and family! We are looking forward to another fabulous year!

As we enter into 2012, I know that most shooters are very anxious for the tournaments to get here or for the Spring time leagues to start… Keep in mind, patience is a virtue. Especially for the shooters who got a brand new shotgun for Christmas. I know that when we get something new, we want to go try it out right away! Patience. The worst thing a shooter can do when getting a new gun is to go straight out to the field before setting it up properly. What will generally happen is the gun will not be fit to them correctly, then they will shoot it poorly or not up to the expectations they had in mind.

Why is that a big deal? Confidence. If you go out to the field without setting up the gun properly and have a poor day with the new gun, your confidence will be shaken up. All too often, we see shooters with a new gun go out to the field and leave the gun club with disappointment because of the score they posted or their performance in general was not up to par.

If you take the time to setup the gun properly or have someone who is qualified set it up for you before going to the field for the first time, the results will be much better and will give you accurate feedback. Why is the feedback important? Well, if it you do not shoot it well, you may question the equipment. When in fact, most of the time, the equipment is not at fault; the equipment just isn't setup properly. However, if it is setup properly, then you may have some form issues that might need to be addressed. Either way, it is a necessity to have the equipment setup properly to send you in the correct direction.

Patience (Continued)

What about the shooters that have the same gun, but it's been a while since they have shot with that particular gun? Or perhaps they had a couple of months off and took a break? First things first, always make sure that the gun still fits you properly. Starting to sound like a broken record, right? If your weight or physique has changed during the time, there is a good possibility the gun does not fit you the same. A good way to test if it still fits you properly is to pattern the gun and shoot some basic targets first such as low 7, and incomers on 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, and 7. If you are not centering these targets, your gun may not fit you properly.

Sure, there could be a problem in the fundamentals as well, but let's assume your fundamentals have not changed. So let me ask you, if you aren't centering these targets, how do you think you will do on high 2 or 3? What about Low 5 and 6 or station 4? I don't think things will work out too well or if you actually hit them, they may not be solid breaks. There are enough problems with these targets, we don't need to make it any harder on ourselves and lose even more confidence.

This is another reason why working the baseline and incoming targets are so important (Station 1, Low 2, Low 3, High 5, High 6, Station 7, Station 8). I am a firm believer in shooting these targets and getting very comfortable with these targets before practicing full rounds of skeet. It is what I do before shooting regular rounds at the beginning of the season. It is great walking onto the skeet field and having complete confidence in your ability to break these targets. Did you know that these targets represent 16-17 (depending on where you take your option) shots out of the 25? Almost 2/3 of the round is baseline and incoming shots!

The overall message here is to start slow and build confidence! That way by the time you are fully ready to get into a solid practice routine, your confidence is there to carry you a long way. A phrase that I have heard recently and really like is "start fast, finish strong." If you can get off to a fast start in your overall skeet game by getting confidence built early, that will help you finish strong and help make your skeet year better. The start fast does not mean jump right into full rounds of skeet after taking some time off either… It means build that confidence early and often to carry you through the season.

Your Foundation for Perfect Skeet with Paul Giambrone, III is available for purchase! The DVD shows you how to build a solid foundation for your skeet game and also helps shooters troubleshoot some common problems they may face. You can order the DVD now for only $59.95 plus shipping! Please email info@gsclinics.com to order your DVD today!

If you have any questions or comments, please email me directly at info@gsclinics.com and visit www.breakmoretargets.com for more information! Please check the website for upcoming tournaments and clinics in your area and keep in mind that we have completed our move to Arlington, TX! GSC will be available to teach in the Dallas/Fort Worth area year round! Please call for lesson availability today! The first clinic of the 2012 season will be held in Winter Haven, FL followed by another clinic in Miami, FL (both are completely full). Next stop will be in Jacksonville, FL February 7-11 at the Jacksonville Skeet and Trap Club. Also, the Fort Worth Skeet and Trap club will host a clinic February 16-19 in Fort Worth, TX. Please email or call me or the local organizer directly for more information about these clinics.

Tip of the month: Remember, when in doubt, always have patience and go back to the fundamentals. We did not go from crawling to a full sprint in one day so take it slow. If you try to rush, you'll end up taking steps backwards instead of progressing forward. Practice those incoming and baseline targets and get your confidence up before moving to the more advanced shots on the field.

Help Wanted

Most gun clubs have a few individuals who are passionate about shotgun sports and who do most of the work putting on shoots and dealing with the multitude of details involved. If you are one of those people, thank you for your hard work and for caring enough about the shotgun sports to do something to preserve them for future generations.

Most gun clubs have many more shooters who really enjoy the sport, but somehow never have the time to pitch in and help. They usually justify this in their minds many ways and I don't want to get into anyone's business here. That said, if skeet is to prosper, perhaps even survive as a sport, it will take more involvement from more people.

What can you do? There are many little things that you can do to help. There is a list on the next page of this issue. At the Red Chute Gazette, we are doing what we can to help promote skeet through providing free advertising to clubs holding registered skeet shoots. All we ask in return is that the clubs provide us with a shoot report and a few pictures so we can show everyone how much fun they missed. The Red Chute Gazette Deal is a deal. Unfortunately, the clubs are having a very hard time getting volunteers to act as Club Reporters and provide us with a write-up and pictures.

If you would volunteer to help promote skeet at your club, please contact Doug Frey at (318) 635-6218 or E-Mail publisher@redchutegazette.com

Help Wanted

We have immediate openings for the following positions:

♦Chef – Chef needed to prepare plan and prepare food for special events with 5 to 150 participants. Must be able to work on a tight budget with less than optimal facilities and equipment.

♦Sous Chef – Needed to assist the Chef in preparation and serving food at special events for 5 to 150 participants. Good dishwashing skills a plus.

♦Marketing Manager – Needed to promote participation in special events (skeet shoots) and to solicit corporate sponsorship (prizes). Must be a skilled communicator with the ability to maximize results through social networking, Internet and other means with virtually no budget for expenses.

♦Skeet Czar (aka Skeet Chairman, Manager or MIC (Man in Charge) – Needed to oversee the management functions of a registered skeet program. Those functions are Planning, Organizing, Staffing and Controlling. Qualified candidates may be male or female. In the event of the later, she would be the Czarina, Manager or FIC (Female in Charge).

♦Registrar- Responsible for registering contestants and collecting the appropriate fees and dues. Candidate should be familiar with NSSA Classification systems and shoot management software (if lucky). Candidate needs to be able to do simple math (addition, subtraction and averaging).

♦Scheduler – Responsible for squadding shooters. Qualified candidates must be a master at coordinating, placating, and diplomacy. A PhD in Psychology would be helpful.

♦Referee – Must be knowledgeable of the rules of the game of American Skeet, a fast thinker and have the ability to take command of the skeet field to which he or she is assigned. Candidates should have good eyesight and be physically able to stand in the hot sun for hours. Experience dealing with difficult people a plus.

♦Scorekeeper – The scorekeeper manages the scoreboard, evaluating the results, determining the winners in accordance to NSSA rules and posting those results for all to see.

♦Mentor/Coach/Recruiter – Encourages, teaches and recruits new shooters to the sport.

♦Helper – The person selected for this position must be able to help or fill in for any of the individuals listed above on a moments noticed. There are many opening for this position.

Pay – None of these positions pay monetary wages. If you are feeling charitable and think you would like to experience the gratification of helping others enjoy the sport of skeet, please contact one of the Club Representatives at one of the Clubs listed in the back of this publication today. They would love to hear from you.

The Red Chute Gazette Deal

Mission Statement

The goal of the Red Chute Gazette is to promote the game of American Skeet. Our target market includes Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Texas.

Our goal is accomplished through publication and distribution an Internet only magazine containing items of interest to those individuals participating in, promoting and supporting registered skeet shoots. Subject matter includes calendars of upcoming events, shoot flyers, shoot reports and pictures. Also included are articles and stories about bird hunting, travel and food.

The Deal

The Red Chute Gazette will publish flyers advertising registered skeet shoots for your gun club at no cost to your club. Simply send us your flyer in Microsoft Word or PDF format via E-Mail. That's FREE!

The Catch

If we agree to publish your shoot flyers, you agree to provide us with a shoot report, write-up or article suitable for printing in the Red Chute Gazette. Include pictures (jpeg or gif files) if possible. It doesn't have to be lengthy and it doesn't have be worthy of a Pulitzer. Just tell or show our readers about the fun you had.

What about Sporting Clays and Trap or other events?

The mission of the Red Chute Gazette is to promote interest and participation in registered Skeet. Sporting Clays and Trap are not subjects we focus on. We recognize that many gun clubs offer events other than Skeet. We are happy to provide commercial advertising space for clubs that wish to promote other shooting related events.

We are happy to offer a special package deal to clubs that support our magazine. If your club buys an ad in the Red Chute Gazette for a full year (1/4 page or larger), we will not only include your ad in 12 issues, we will include any shoot flyers (please limit flyers to two pages) for sporting clays, trap or other events your club promotes in those issues at no additional charge.
